Cookie Policy

v1.0

This is a translation. In case of any discrepancy, the Dutch text prevails.

VIA, also acting under the name Via BV, hereby declares its cookie policy.

We respect the privacy of our visitors. We therefore handle your personal data with great caution. Nevertheless, it is necessary for our website to function properly that we use cookies. Below we indicate which cookies we place or are placed and what they serve for.

A cookie is a simple small file that is sent along with the pages of this website. These are stored by your browser on the hard drive of your computer. You can delete these cookies via your browser, see for example this explanation by the Consumers' Association for an explanation. We only use functional cookies. These are cookies that are necessary for our services.

Other functional cookies that we use enable you to navigate our websites and use our features. Examples include remembering the login codes or remembering previous actions when navigating back to a page during the same session. These cookies also do not collect any personal data, but are only used to optimize the operation of our website.

We reserve the right to make changes to our cookie policy. However, these will only be functional cookies. When we consider using non-functional cookies, we will ask for your permission. Any changes will then be published on this page.
